

Hi there,

Last December we let you know about a new trial you are part of to reduce waste sent to landfill.

Starting 1 July 2025, we're going to trial collecting general rubbish bins every 2 weeks.

You're one of 3,000 properties across Hadfield, Brunswick and Brunswick West taking part in this trial.

It's costing more to send waste to landfill, so reducing waste to landfill is more important than ever before. This trial aims to help keep landfill and collection costs (which make up your waste charge) low for the future.

More than 20 Victorian councils already collect rubbish bins every 2 weeks. They're sending less to landfill because people put their food scraps in the food and garden organics (FOGO) bin every week.

By doing this, we can save you money and create more compost for Victorian farmers to help grow the food we eat.

We'll support you through the trial as we work together to 'transform the norm'.

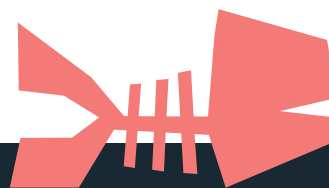

What you need to know

It costs less to collect your rubbish bin every 2 weeks. This means your general rubbish waste charge will be lower than households not in the trial with a weekly collection.

We're working with residents, property managers and/or Owners Corporations to help get the best bin set-up for your place before the trial starts.

Some buildings and developments will keep using shared rubbish bins. These properties will get larger 240-litre bins.

In some cases, residents will use individual rubbish bins. This is to make sure that shared bin storage areas can be used for mixed recycling, glass recycling and FOGO bins.
